

EDUCATION

---

New York University– August 2013 to present

- Anticipated Bachelor of Arts in Global Public Health-Anthropology, May 2017

New York University (Sydney, AU) – January 2015 to May 2015Cold Spring Harbor High School ‘13WORK EXPERIENCE

---

Legal Intern, Legal Aid Society-Health Law Unit (February 2016-present)

- Conduct research on the barriers that the elderly face when accessing legal services
- Perform administrative tasks as needed

Research Assistant, New York University School of Medicine-Department of Population Health (June 2015-present)

- Help write paper on Ecological Momentary Assessment feasibility among public housing residents
- Edit grant re-submissions
- Assist supervisor in drafting course materials (labs, PowerPoints, assignments) for his class on spatial Epidemiology
- EndNote articles for Principal Investigator
- Perform administrative tasks as needed
- Collected qualitative data for project looking at the health implications of built environmental factors for New Yorkers living in public housing
- Conducted one on one qualitative interviews with participants and helped facilitate focus group discussions
- Helped create study materials for qualitative interviews such as surveys and questionnaires
- Created study related documents for NYU’s Institutional Review Board

Legal Intern, Suffolk County Legal Aid Society-Children’s Bureau (June 2015-August 2015)

- Reviewed articles of the Family Court Act as they applied to cases on trial for the day
- Observed court conferences and trials at the Suffolk County Family Court
- Assisted attorney for the child (AFC), Arshia Baseer, in making home visits and conducting interviews with clients
- Participated in conferences between family members of the child who are up for trial and their respective attorneys
- Attended weekly seminars with fellow interns to learn more about the standards an AFC must uphold and what the profession entails
- Participated in mock trials with Ms. Baseer to help her prepare for a presentation on how to properly and effectively incorporate social media as evidence in a trial

Research Assistant, University of Sydney-School of Public Health (February 2015-May 2015)

- Assisted with coding and analysis of qualitative and quantitative data on SPSS (statistical analysis software)
- Created scripts for qualitative interviews
- Conducted qualitative interviews with study participants, community health workers and teachers of the health literacy course
- Devised assessments to give study participants to determine if the intervention group had better health literacy than control group
- Wrote literature reviews as needed
- Developed documents of study data for future publication

Receptionist, Nassau Sports Physical Therapy (January 2015)

- Answered phones, made appointments, handled co-payments, contacted insurance companies
- Filed patient information, made photocopies, data entry
- Maintained neatness and cleanliness of waiting room, therapy rooms and equipment

Orientation group leader, Project Outreach (August 2014)

- Provided direct mentorship to a group of 10 first year students at NYU; helped them become acclimated to college life and the city
- Planned routes and guided my group to different service sights around the 5 boroughs
  - o Volunteered at a park clean up, food bank, the Rockaways to rebuild a house destroyed by Hurricane Sandy, and the Housing Works clothing donation center
- Exposed my group of students to various service opportunities around the city and initiated discussion on social issues that persist throughout the 5 boroughs

Product Advisor, Microsoft Store (May 2014-August 2014)

- Assisted customers in selecting of merchandise such as computers, tablets, accessories, and software
- Provided technical one on one private lessons on a variety of subjects like Windows 8 and Microsoft Office
- Restocked merchandise, set out floor sets for display, and operated the cash register

Intern, Ned Seeman’s Nanotechnology Lab, NYU (March 2014-May 2014)

- Shadowed senior researchers as they worked on projects pertaining to DNA nanotechnology and crystallography
- Co-authored a paper presented at NYU Undergraduate Research Conference (“DNA Crystal Designed to Contain three Molecules Per Asymmetric Unit”)

Tutor, Kumon Math and Reading (June 2012-August 2013)

- Assisted children, one on one, in their class work and home assignments
- Graded homework and classwork
- Organized and assigned appropriate lessons to students
- Discussed the children's progress with their parents and provide guidance

Intern, Suffolk County Family Court (Aug 2012 – Sept 2012)

- Shadowed attorney for the child, Arshia Baseer, and performed administrative tasks (phone calls, filing cases, note-taking, etc.)
- Proof read cases and attended court trials about abuse, neglect and custody of children

Research Assistant, Nassau University Medical Center (July 2011-September 2011)

- Assisted physicians with gathering and logging patient statistics such as body mass index in the OB & GYN department

SKILLS

---

- Skilled in Microsoft Office, Windows Essentials, and minor technical PC issues
- Fluent in English and Kashmiri
- Conversational Spanish

CLUBS, ACTIVITIES, AND LEADERSHIP

---

- April 2015-present: Vice President of Administration for the Class of 2017's Activities Board (CAB17), Public Health Leadership Organization (VP of Programming)
- 2013- present: NYU United Against Inequities in Disease (President), Anthropology Club (Secretary)
- 2013-2014: General member of Project Sunshine, and Society of Students in Emergency Medicine

VOLUNTEER EXPERIENCE

---

NYU Project Sunshine Club Member (September 2013-September 2015)

- Meet weekly to make craft kits, journals and "sunny grams" (cards) to be distributed to sick children at Lincoln Hospital (Bronx, NY)

NYU United against Inequities in Disease (September 2013-present)

- Helped plan and coordinate an NYU wide screening of the movie "Dallas Buyer's Club" in honor of World AID's Day 2014
- Helped plan and teach lessons on nutrition to a group of students at "The Door," a not for profit organization in NYC that provides a nurturing environment for at risk youths aged 12-21

Project Outreach Participant (August 2013)

- Selected to be one of 100 NYU first year students who participated in various service activities in NYC such as distributing meals at a soup kitchen, packaging food at a food bank and rebuilding homes destroyed by Hurricane Sandy

PUBLICATIONS, WRITING & RESEARCH

---

- Recipient of the Dean's Undergraduate Research Fund grant to conduct independent project about the barriers that caretakers of children living in public housing face in providing their children with a health supporting environment (November 2015)
- Co-author on "A Surprising Reason for Child Obesity and What You Can Do" (<http://blog.kidzcentralstation.com/from-the-real-experts-at-nyu/surprising-reason-child-obesity-can/>)
- Author of blog post "E-Cigarette Use on the Rise Among Teenagers" (<http://www.uaid.org/blog/>)