

Lucy Yang

lwy208@nyu.edu · +1 646 508-3130
239-41 65th Avenue Douglaston, NY 11362

EDUCATION

New York University, College of Arts and Science, New York, NY

Bachelor of Science in Global Public Health with Concentration in Biology Expected Graduation: May 2018

Relevant courses:

- General Chemistry I & II
- Principles of Biology I & II
- Organic Chemistry I & II
- Epidemiology for Global Health
- Health and Society in a Global Context
- Environmental Health in a Global World

WORK EXPERIENCE

New York University Langone Medical Center, New York, NY

June 2016-present

Department of Population Health, Spatial Epidemiology Lab research assistant

- Perform literature searches using EndNote and Mendeley
- Assist in study design, participant recruitment and enrollment, and data collection on various projects

NYC Office of Chief Medical Examiner, New York, NY

May 2015-August 2015

Forensic Pathology Intern

- Assisted medical examiners during autopsies by setting up equipment and performing procedures
- Attended lectures related to forensics such as post-mortem changes, medico-legal investigation, toxicology, etc.

NYC Mainman Corp., Woodside, NY

August 2014-present

Office Assistant

- Organize a small business office by filling out forms, matching credit card statements, and assisting with accounting tasks
- Perform general administrative work such as filing, scanning, copying, and mailing

Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, MA

July 2013-August 2013

Research Intern

- Participated in research using spectroscopy to develop metabolomic profiles for prostate cancer
- Learned how to cut tissue for spectral analysis
- Completed a course regarding ethics and regulations behind medical research
- Observed several prostate biopsies as well as a hospital autopsy

VOLUNTEER EXPERIENCE

Reach Out and Read, Bellevue Hospital, New York, NY

December 2014-August 2015

Volunteer

- Exposed young children in the waiting room to books and encouraged them to think critically by asking questions about the content
- Observed and understood the nature of the administrative component of the hospital and its relation to the clinical side to improve the overall patient experience

SKILLS

- Languages: Fluent in Mandarin and Cantonese, proficient in Japanese
- Software: Proficient in Microsoft Office Suite, Adobe Photoshop, Google Docs and other Google Programs, EndNote and Mendeley; familiar with Sony Vegas and Final Cut Pro